

Asian Management Game 2019

in Collaboration with “AAMO” & “MMA”

Management Association of Pakistan

INTRODUCTION

Asian Management Game (AMG) is one of the annual activities of Asian Association of Management Organisations (AAMO), currently organized by Macau Management Association (MMA), which aims at connecting different national management organizations in the Asian Pacific region. For the past two decades, AMG has successfully served as a platform for young managers in the region to learn and exchange from each other. MAP being a member of AAMO, has been nominating MAP member teams for AMG as a value addition for our membership. MAP teams have been reaching the finals & one of the teams ended up as a Runner up team.

HOW TO PLAY

AMG will be played online in either English or Chinese version. Each NMO will nominate up to 2 teams each consisting of 3 — 5 young managers. The registered teams will be allocated into groups by draw. Each team will, in each round, be assigned a company for managing its operations and making strategic decisions for a period of five financial quarters. The team that has achieved the highest share price shall be the winner.

AMG comprises of trial round, semi-final and final spread over 2 months July/August 2019. Each team is required to download from AMG website the background information of the assigned company, which records its past performances and its present position. Decisions surrounding marketing, finance, production and human resources are entered online according to the Game Calendar schedule. At the end of each financial quarter, team will receive a management report from the Game Administrator detailing the latest economic environment and the company's performance reflecting the team's decisions.

WIN

The champion team in the final round will be sponsored a free trip to Macau and join young managers from other AAMO countries for a study visit to Hong Kong tentatively in November 2019
